Association Management, Inc. Expands Into Austin

Houston, Texas – (January, 2009) Association Management, Inc. (AMI) announces the opening of its satellite office in Austin, TX, to more conveniently serve its clients in the greater Austin area.

The office, located at 3103 Bee Cave Rd. – Suite 100, is managed by Director Camille Belcher, PCAM, with the support of the corporate offices located in Houston. Founded in 1979, AMI is Houston's oldest and largest company offering a full range of professional management services to a wide variety of communities including large-scale master-planned communities to luxury high rise condominiums. AMI provides a complete range of services for condominiums, townhome, and single-family sub-division communities, including administrative services, financial services, and physical property services.

“After consulting on some of Austin’s most exciting developments, we are happy to finally become a physical presence in this rapidly growing community,” said CEO of AMI David Regenbaum.

AMI's success is based on consistently building outstanding relationships with boards, homeowners, developers and contractors. AMI currently manages over 60,000 residential and commercial units in 230 associations throughout southeast and central Texas.
